*The Newsletter of the Westbrook Historical Society:
A Society That Preserves The Past*
Summer, 2011 – Donna Cousens Conley, Editor

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Here comes summer, the time of the year when we can enjoy the warm weather and the fun times it brings with it.

This summer also brings with it the Westbrook Historical Society's much anticipated move into the new Westbrook Community Center that is located in the Fred Wescott Building at 426 Bridge Street. The City is still maintaining that this move will be in July, exact date has not been given at this time.

At the next Board of Directors Meeting (May 24) I will be asking Board Members to take on the responsibility of grouping volunteers in specific tasks, i.e., Organizing, Cataloging and Packing our Collection. Members of the Westbrook-Gorham Rotary, Community Center Staff and Public Services have indicated that they will help in the actual moving of our Collection to the Community Center.

Once we have our Collection at the Community Center we will have the task of unpacking, inventorying and setting up displays. At this time I am appealing to our membership for volunteers. Anyone available can contact me or any of the Board members listed on this newsletter.

This seems like a monumental task and for all intents and purposes it is; that being said, I am confident that our move will be done in a smooth and timely manner.

Once again I would like to express my gratitude to the Officers, Board of Directors, regular volunteers and everyone else that has been working hard to accomplish the mission of the Westbrook Historical Society.

Mike Sanphy

WELCOME TO NEW MEMBERS:

Arthur Brown, Westbrook
Tom Clarke, Westbrook
Jeanette Daly, Westbrook

This is how Society meetings were announced in the good old days before computers – sent via United States Postal Services:

To members of the Westbrook Historical Society
Save the evening of May 7 for a meeting,

Larry and others will give you a greeting.
Please note that 7:30 is the time
Come join us, please; it won't cost you a dime.
At the Old High School come through the door
We'll be in our headquarters on the second floor.

A short business meeting (hard to omit)
A program will follow — I'll explain it a bit:
Our friends at landmarks are helping us
To build up our records with little fuss
Of pictures and stories of homes in our City.
If we don't get these now, what a pity!
We'll ask proud owners for photos and facts of their own,
Or we can do it for them if some facts are known.
Records that will last forever are what we're striving for;
Come help us build up more of Westbrook's history and lore.

Our guest in June will be, and I quote,
"Richard Sweeney, a collector of note,
Is a document buff and will share with us all
His searchings and findings from attic to hall."

Vaun E. Born, Sec'y (A Poet Laureate I'm Not!!)

April 30, 1980

The above poem is taken from the Westbrook Historical Society's Secretary's book. People were very clever before the advent of the PC...or was it just Vaun?

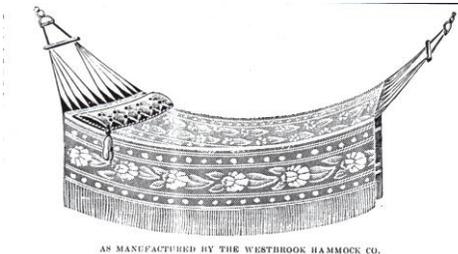

Summer is finally coming...

WESTBROOK HAMMOCK COMPANY

Maine's Only Hammock Industry

"Greatly augmenting Westbrook's diversified products and carrying its name throughout the entire United States, the Westbrook Hammock Co. is noted not only for its volume of business transacted, but by the superiority of its goods, which are famous the world over." This quote comes from the 1906 Trade Journal.

A special feature of the Westbrook Hammock was the "Can't Slip" hook to which a rope could easily and quickly be fastened, released and adjusted. While the hammock was in use, the body weight tightened the grip. This feature was only used on the Westbrook Hammock and was manufactured by the Company. Only the best materials were used in the hammocks' manufacture and the colors and styles were reported as new and up-to-date. In brief, the Journal reported that it was the best hammock in the markets of the world. (Woven hammocks had been in vogue since 1883.)

The Westbrook Hammock Co. was incorporated October 19, 1902 with N.E. Brown as President and A.L. Hawkes as Treasurer. It was located in the rear of J.W. Morris Grist Mill on Main St, across from Central Street. The building was severely damaged by a fire in 1932 and was torn down. At the peak of its business years it sold some 15,000 hammocks annually, used 12,000 square feet of floor space on three floors and employed twenty skilled hands. The mill was equipped with all the latest and most improved machinery, all driven by electric motor power.

THE MUSEUM CORNER

We are pleased to announce the acquisition of what we believe to be the only public (Westbrook) copy of:

Letters of Colonel Thomas Westbrook and Others Relative to Indian Affairs in Maine 1722-1726

Wm Blake Trask, A.M. Editor; pub 1901

This first edition of Col. Westbrook's letters consisted of 100 numbered copies. The Society has acquired copy #30 of that printing. It is fitting that the Society provides a home for this book of letters by Westbrook's namesake. The original book will be protected and preserved but a copy of the book will be available for reading and research. Included in the book are muster rolls of Col. Westbrook's Company and of various sloops which were transports in His Majesties Services.

ASSESSIONS:

1947 class photo Bridge St. School
Photos of OGK Robinson & Westbrook
Copies of WHS Graduation programs
Ephemera, photographs & scrapbooks belonging to
Mrs. Foye of Forest Street School
Fire Department scrapbook of George Daly, c.1950
Genealogies: Duchaine, Francouer, Charland
Captain Mac, a book by Mary Morton Cowan
Bridger Street School group photo – 1947-48

FALL PROGRAMS BEING PLANNED:

Program Chairman, Suzan Norton, is planning an exciting list of programs for next year. They will include speakers on: the Boys of Summer 1951 (about the Little League team which included our own Jim Burrill), a re-try for Appraisal Day by Thomaston Galleries, Deeds & Genealogy research, and a presentation by Scott Dyer, Civil War Historian/re-enactor and Society member.

LEST WE FORGET THIS MEMORIAL DAY!

A few examples of Westbrook's Military Contributions

Revolutionary War:

In 1975, in observance of the U.S. Bicentennial, Kendall W. Woods compiled a list of all the Westbrook-connected men who had fought in the Revolutionary War. Considering that Westbrook was then a part of Falmouth, this must have been a time consuming labor of love. His final list consisted of 25 names. Among them were:
Peter Cobb – buried in “Rocky Hill Cemetery”
Nathaniel Hatch – buried Saccarappa Cemetery
Archelaus Lewis – buried Stroudwater Cemetery
Daniel Lunt – buried in Lunt Cemetery, Lunt Dr.
Jeremiah Small – in family cem., Highland Lake
James Webb – buried in Conant Cemetery
(For a full listing, visit our P. LaViolet Military Collection.)

Spanish-American War:

Pearl Bachelder's interview in the Spring Quarterly tells of the men of Co. M, Maine National Guard marching off to a war “they never found”.

Civil War:

According to the American Civil War Research Database (see copy at the Society) Westbrook had a total of 447 local soldiers in the war. Of these, 15 were killed or mortally wounded, 1 died as a POW and 17 died of disease.

WW I:

France 1918
Dear Mrs. Doyle,

It is with great pleasure that I take a moment in answering your letter which I received from you and, and which was indeed verry mutch appreciated, for a letter post marked Westbrook certingly do look good here. We are working verry hard and doing our best to defend Democracy and to bring forth peace to the whole world, as we enjoyed back to the good old

U.S.A. for so long.

Of course we all know that the people back home are doing all they can to help win this war, wich we will with the help of God and man forever. You say that trench life and no-man's land, was displayed at the morning pictures. Well what do you think of it? Was it taken in France or some training camp in the U.S.A.? It gives a person a little idea of what It is like anyway. Many times, a fellow wished he was home as you said, long to hide their faces in their mothers shoulders and let go all their pent up feelings, and I myself hope that this time soon came when I will be able to satisfy my feelings, and to sit at the family table once more and enjoy a good family's meal all together. Of course we are all learning something every one of us is, everyday I think some will lead a far better life than they did when they were living in the States. This war has brought a big lesson to some of us, one that will never be forgotten for I've had one thought to me I will never forget, is, Theres no place like home no mater where or what it be. Some fellows say well I am tired of staying home I want a change Well I will tell you right now that I have had all the changes that I ever want in this world, till the time comes for me to maneuver into the other. I must close now for it is geting late and have a few little things to do before long.

Sincerely, pvt george n. whitzell usa

This letter, (copied as written) addressed to long-time principal of Brown Street School Miss Julia Doyle, was found in the collection of her papers. A note written by Miss Doyle was attached to the letter and stated that George had been killed in action before she received it.

His obituary stated that George Whitzell, son of Mr. & Mrs. John Whitzell, was killed in action in France on Oct 14, 1918. He was a member of Co. M 103 Infantry. He is buried in St. Hyacinth Cemetery with his parents.

WW II:

Brigadier General Joseph P. Vachon, a native of Westbrook, captured by the Japanese in the fall of the Philippines, was liberated from a Mukden, Manchuria prison camp in September of 1945. Brig. Gen. Vachon had been forced to surrender the 101st Division on Mindanao, May 10, 1942. While a prisoner of the Japs he was so physically and mentally beaten that he couldn't even remember his wife's address, so he related to an Associated Press correspondent upon his release. Vachon said the Karenko prison camp in Formosa was the worst he was in. "I lost 35 pounds there which was the least anybody lost," he said. It was after several months in this camp that the Westbrook man couldn't remember his wife's address, he said. He was one of six American generals reaching Manila from Mukden, Manchuria, where they were released by the Russians.

Vachon graduated from St. Hyacinth Parochial School, Bridge St. School and attended Westbrook High School. He entered the Army shortly after graduation and served 40 years in the service which included duty in two World Wars. He received the citation for Distinguished Service Medal for his performing "exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service to the Government in a duty of great responsibility from November 1941 to August 1945."

VIETNAM CONFLICT:

Pfc. Leroy W. Riggs, son of Mr. & Mrs. Elmer Riggs of Cottage Place, received the Silver Star from VP H.H. Humphrey. He received the honor in a Di An, South Vietnam hospital where he was recovering from battlefield wounds which earned him a Purple Heart.
